Inflated land costs keep business out, reeve tells council

Inflated prices for commercial land are keeping businesses out of Haliburton Village.

That is the opinion of Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey, who told council Monday that businesses which would have located in the village have gone elsewhere because commercial land prices on the main street are prohibitively high.

"We've lost two businesses out of here in the last two months because they couldn't pay the price," Fearrey said.

The scarcity of lots on Highland Street has sent prices soaring. The owners of one vacant lot is reported to be asking $560 a foot for the property, while a buyer paid more than $1000 a foot for another main street property recently.

Reeve Fearrey said those prices are as high as a business would pay for a piece of land on George Street in the heart of Peterborough's shopping district.

The reeve noted that council cannot dictate prices for commercial lots, even if it is convinced those prices are hurting the village's economy.

"What we are in a position to do," he said, "is to create other areas for people to go to" by facilitating the rezoning of land to commercial.

Fearrey noted that if there were more options open to potential buyers, competition might bring prices down, making it easier for new businesses to find land.

Areas of Oak Street, Station Street, Highlands Street and Maple Street are presently zoned commercial, but almost none of the land on those streets is vacant.

Creation of more commercial land could come through amendments to the municipality's official plan, which would facilitate zoning changes.

Council is expected to consider the matter when the plan is reviewed later.

Noise by-law charges laid for second time

The Rockcliffe Hotel in Minden, which was charged under the municipality's noise by-law during the summer, has been re-issued a court summons.

The summons is for two charges of emitting excessive noise using electronic devices, under section 3.4 of the by-law.

Last November, the original charges were thrown out of court on a technicality, the defense lawyer claiming that the form on which the summons was issued was improper. But the municipality, and their lawyer, Fraser Rogers, decided to re-lay the charges against owner Dave Willis last November.

The charges were not issued immediately, and it wasn't until "just before Christmas," said Rogers, that the summonses were presented to Willis, by a police officer.

Willis is now scheduled to appear in provincial court on January 15 in Minden, where a formal announcement of the new trial date will be made.

The charges have been re-laid said Rogers, "on a proper information form." The wording in the charge will remain the same, however additional details will be included in the new form.

The original charges are based on four letters of complaint received by the municipality during the summer. The charges were issued on June 22 and 27, and were based on two letters addressed to the municipality. If, after the by-law is tested in court and convictions against the hotel are upheld, Rogers said charges could be laid again in response to the two other letters of complaint.

Pilotless plane crashes, burns

The owner of a light plane watched helplessly last Sunday as his pilotless aircraft took off, flew nearly a mile across Esson Lake, struck a stand of trees and burst into flames.

Murray James Elliott, 39, along with two friends, had flown from Bancroft to Esson Lake, and was about to start the return trip when the mishap occurred.

Police say Elliott experienced starter problems and flooded the engine of his Piper Clipper aircraft. He set the fuel mixture lever in the "lean" position and walked to the front of the plane to manually spin the propeller while his companions held onto the machine.

When the engine fired, Elliott returned to the cockpit to enrich the fuel mixture. He did not enter the aircraft, but reached inside for the fuel mixture lever, pushing the throttle lever in error.

Elliott's companions were unable to hold the aircraft back against the thrust of the engine and were forced to release their grip. The machine travelled down the ice and took off, rising to a height of 30 feet.

Approximately a mile down the lake, it struck a stand of trees and crashed to the Assessment change could cut tax bills

Residential taxpayers in Dysart et al could find their tax bills reduced in 1981 if the municipality opts for assessment changes recommended by provincial assessment officials.

Regional assessment commissioner Ivor James told council Monday that adopting equalized assessment under Section 86 of the Assessment Act would reduce inequities within property classes, lowering assessments for some residential taxpayers and increasing assessments on tracts of recreational land which have been assessed too low.

The net result would be to spread the burden of taxation more fairly among the 8,458 property owners in the municipality.

Assessments for all classes of property have been frozen since 1970, when the provincial government announced that it intended to bring in a system of assessment based on full market value. But studies showed the scheme would have resulted in politically unacceptable tax shifts, and the government backed off. Equalized assessment under Section 86 is intended to reduce some of the inequities that exist in local assessments across the province without creating the large tax shifts predicted under full market value assessment.

Under the scheme, total assessment will remain unchanged, but assessments for individual properties within a property class will be adjusted. Each property owner would then be assessed at the same percentage of market value.

Adjustments would be made by comparing the present assessments of all properties within a class with the 1975 market values of those properties.

Residential assessments within the municipality currently vary from a low of one percent of market value to a high of 12 1/2 percent, with the median or mid point being approximately two percent. Thus half of all residential properties in Dysart et al are assessed at or below two percent of 1975 market value, while the other half are assessed at or above two percent of their actual value.

Under the equalization scheme, assessments would be adjusted to the median figure so that each residential property would be assessed at the same percentage of its 1975 market value as calculated by the regional assessment office. And because assessments will be raised or lowered to the median, total assessments within a property class will neither increase nor decrease.

Most significant change under the new scheme is that cottage, residential, farm and recreational land, which were formerly separate, will be lumped together in a single class for equalization purposes. The result will be a significant increase in assessment for some tracts of vacant land, which have formerly been assessed at levels as low as one tenth of one percent of 1975 market value. Such a property, adjusted to the two percent median figure within the new class, would be subject to a 20 fold increase in assessment. On the other side of the scale, properties which have been assessed too high will have their assessments reduced.

"Some individual properties are way out" the regional assessment commissioner said "and they're going to get hit."

Deputy reeve Harold Bannon expressed concern that the scheme could put some recreational land owners out of business, or force them to sell off portions of their land to meet increased taxes resulting from higher assessments.

The assessment commissioner countered that such landowners have not been paying their fair share of municipal taxes under the old scheme, and that as a result, residential taxpayers have been forced to make up the shortfall.

"We're trying to use a common sense approach" to improving the system, James said.

Following the commissioner's presentation, council voted to ask the provincial minister of revenue to carry out a study which will show the dollar impact of the equalized assessment scheme in the municipality.

When that study is completed and presented to council, a decision will be made whether or not to go with assessment equalization for the 1981 taxation year.

Cardiff and Glamorgan Townships have already opted to implement the system this year, while Anson, Hindon and Minden, Lutterworth and Snowdon Townships have asked for the study.

Completion of the study is expected to take several months.

Stanhope acid rain committee to keep ratepayers informed

An acid rain committee has been formed in Stanhope Township.

Harry Davis, chairman of the newly-founded committee, said Tuesday that the group will collect and organize information on the effects of acid rain and pollution, and relay this to Stanhope residents. The committee also intends to establish a liaison between the federal and provincial governments, and attempt to learn of any actions they may take.

"We want to keep our residents alerted to the problem of acid rain and pollution and go to higher levels of government to find the answers," said Davis.

The committee, consisting of Stanhope residents Jim Elstone and Alex Stevenson, was organized due to an increasing concern by the township council of the effects of acid rain. So far, the committee has visited the environmental centre in Dorset, where the Ministry of Environment is currently studying the acid rain problem. The committee has also written to the provincial government requesting information regarding acid rain

Dysart may sell washrooms

The public washrooms in Haliburton Village, which for years have been an ongoing headache for Dysart et al council, may soon be a thing of the past.

But that does not mean the village will be left without public toilet facilities.

Under the terms of a proposal from Haliburton businessman Peter Curry, the public would be allowed to use the washrooms at Curry Motors during business hours (7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.) and in return, the site of the present public washrooms would be sold to Curry Motors Ltd. at market value.

Main concern of council was that the arrangement, if approved, would have to be established on a permanent basis.

Curry said the public's right to use the company's washrooms would set down as a covenant to the deed. He also agreed to a suggestion from councillor Roy Brohm that a sign be erected to indicate that the washrooms were available to the public.

The existing public washrooms have been the target of repeated vandalism, but Curry said he didn't think similar problems would be experienced under his proposal, because the washrooms would be kept locked and the public would have to ask for a key to enter them.

Curry told council that the business "really need(s) the property."

Reeve Murray Fearrey noted that a good well exists on the public washroom site, and that compensation for the well would have to be included in the selling price of the property.

Council agreed to investigate the proposal further, and to establish a price for the property.

Ministry plans review of CAS

Community and Social Services Minister, Keith C. Norton, has announced that operational reviews will be conducted of 10 children's aid societies in 1980.

The reviews are part of a five-year program begun this year (1979) to review the operations of Ontario's 50 children's aid societies. The reviews examine the goals, management practices, program approaches and financial

Ministry to sell fuelwood again

A fuelwood program organized by the Ministry of Natural Resources will once again take place in two locations around Haliburton County this year.

The program, sponsored by Ministry funding, will mean that area residents will be able to purchase quality fuelwood at lower prices than average.

Last year's program was very successful, Ministry spokesmen say, and this year, production will be the key to furthering that success. Wood salvaging sites last year were located in Hindon township off the Vankoughnet Road, in Gooderham and in the Kimmount area.

The site on the Vankoughnet Road became difficult for Ministry personnel to administer, so a new pick-up site located at the Minden fairgrounds will be used as a central selling point, pending approval from municipal council. The actual salvaging area has yet to be chosen.

In the Gooderham area, however, operations are already underway to remove cull trees, that is, selected trees that do not have any commercial value to sawmills or lumber companies. The site is located about three miles off the Hadlington Road, and was used in last year's tree salvaging operations, when dead or dying trees were removed.

Last year was the first time the Ministry began selling salvaged and valueless wood to the general public, though they were selling to commercial buyers before this. Due to an increased demand in wood from ordinary citizens, the Ministry decided to sell the material to anyone wishing to purchase it.

Horses were used in the Gooderham operation so small brush and saplings were not killed during movement of the logs. This year, the stress will be on production, since Ministry personnel are expecting more of the public to take advantage of the program. Skidders will be used at the Gooderham site to bring tree-length logs out of the bush. A contractor will be taking out trees at the Minden area site.

The logs at both sites will be piled at central pickup points, where the public may cut their own wood from the piles. The wood will cost from $15 to $16 a full cord in Gooderham, and $39 a full cord in Minden.

Selling at the Gooderham site is expected to begin early next week, and the central pick-up in Minden should open shortly after that date. Further information on the project may be obtained by calling the Ministry office in Minden at 286-1521.

Learning group is now providing information, help

The Haliburton Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is now providing an information and communication service in the county for parents and others who are trying to cope with problems caused by learning disabilities.

Learning disabilities have always been with us. Back in grade four, remember the child who was always in trouble. Never got his school work done, bright child, tried hard but maybe he wrote words backwards? Couldn't remember the order of letter in reading and spelling - added 2 and 2 backwards. Chances are, that child had a special learning disability - a puzzling condition that affects the processing system of the brain, but not intelligence. There are still children like that. As many as ten percent of school age children have learning disabilities, but hope does exist. Special help and understanding will aid them in realizing their potential - they no longer have to fail or drop out.

If you are concerned that someone in your family or someone else you know may have a learning disability, and you wish to find out how you can help and better understand that person, you can contact an association volunteer. This person will suggest what constructive services or other alternatives may be available to help you. The volunteer can also put you in touch with others in your situation who are coping with the problems that learning disabilities cause within families.

You can contact a Family Service Volunteer by leaving your telephone number and a brief message with the Haliburton Public Health Office Switchboard at 457-1391.

Drivers can no longer pay $150 into the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund and register a vehicle without insurance. Revision process gives voters chance to get on voters list

Over 15 million cards - called 'Notices of Enumeration' - will go into the mails to Canadian voters this January.

The massive mailing is a key procedure in preparing for the 32nd federal general election to be held on February 18.

The cards will be mailed no later than January 11.

They will go out to all those whose names were on the final, official voters' list that was used in the last general election on May 22, 1979.

The card will confirm that the voters' name appears on the list of electors for the polling division in which he or she was ordinarily residing at the time of the May 22nd, 1979 general election. It will identify the voter's electoral district, polling division number, the location of the polling station and the date and hours of voting.

This is a change from the usual procedure of compiling the preliminary voters' list. The list in past elections was prepared as a result of a door-to-door canvass by enumerators, then was revised into an official list. There will be no enumeration for this election.

In other respects, the process for this election will not differ in any major way.

An eligible voter who does not receive an enumeration card in the mail can still get his or her name on the revised, official voters' list. But the voter must take the necessary action to get on the revised list.

A person who is eligible to vote but does not receive a card should contact the Returning Officer of his or her electoral district after January 15 and before February 4.

Special emphasis will be placed on revising the preliminary lists for this election, according to the Chief Electoral Officer, Jean-Marc Hamel.

"Although the preliminary lists we are using are only six months old, we expect to make revisions to 12 to 13 per cent of the names on the lists," Hamel said. "This will result from changes of residence, marriages, deaths and so on."

The revising process in rural areas will extend from January 7 to January 30, inclusive. However, in a rural polling division, if your name is not on the voters' list on polling day, you can still be "vouched" for by a voter whose name is on the list for your polling division.

To be eligible to vote in the general election, a person must be 18 years of age or over by polling day - February 18 - must be a Canadian citizen and an ordinary resident of the polling division on December 31, 1979.

In the last federal general election of May 22, 1979, there were 15,156,252 names on the official list of voters.

Fishermen will see changes in province's fishing rules

Ontario anglers can expect some new seasons for lake trout, rainbow trout and muskonge next year as well as additional sanctuaries and two new creel limits, Natural Resources Minister James Auld has announced.

Changes will be outlined in the 1980 fishing summary, available free to anglers and sporting goods stores in mid-January.

The Minister said that in divisions nine and ten in eastern Ontario, winter fishing for lake trout has been reduced to two weeks - February 2 to February 17.

In division eight, which includes the Bay of Quinte and other Prince Edward County waters, muskonge fishing will open June 21, two weeks later than usual, coinciding with the opening in the rest of Lake Ontario and the upper reaches of the St. Lawrence.

In this same division, the creel limit for muskie has been dropped from two to one and the minimum size limit has been increased to 91 cm (36 in.) from 71 cm (28 in.).

Many streams between Port Hope and the Niagara River, including the Humber and Rouge rivers and Duffin Creek, will have year round rainbow trout and brown trout fishing at their mouths.

There is no longer a weight limit on the total brook trout catch in some of the Ontario divisions.

A daily limit of 50 perch per person has been set for all of Manitoulin Island and the North Channel, excluding the island's four major lakes. The lakes retain their previous creel limit of 25 per day.

There will be a bow fishing season for coarse fish from May 1 to June 15. This will be during daylight hours only in various bays of the North Channel, as outlined in the 1980 summary.

Ontario will have 23 new fish sanctuaries next year, increasing the provincial total to more than 200.

"Some of the changes will provide anglers with additional fishing while others will reduce their chances," said Auld. "The adjustments are necessary to protect this popular resource in the future."

Wood fuel calls for caution

As energy costs continue to climb, many people are re-kindling an old flame - wood fires.

With proper forest management, wood can provide a cheap, clean, renewable energy source.

But don't forget you're playing with fire. An improperly installed or maintained fireplace, stove or combination wood-oil unit is a fire hazard.

Local fire chiefs urge you to use common sense and follow a few simple guidelines:

Install only units that have been certified for use with wood by the Canadian Standards Association, or Underwriters' Laboratories of Canada. Combination wood-gas units are not approved.

Stoves, including grates, should be in good condition. Doors and dampers should fit tightly so you can control the rate of combustion.

Hire an expert to make sure the flue pipe and chimney are in good repair and can handle the higher temperatures produced by wood fires.

If you originally had a coal or wood burning furnace in your home and later converted to a gas or oil unit, restoration should be relatively simple. However, some chimneys are designed specifically for oil or gas and may not be adequate.

Masonry or ULC certified, factory-built chimneys are safe for use with wood. But Damage was estimated at $1000 when a car collided with a parked pickup truck in the parking lot of the West Guilford Shopping Centre Sunday afternoon.

Police say Larry R. Castle, 26 of RR 1 Haliburton was entering the parking area when his vehicle skidded into the parked pickup.

Damage to the car was set at $1000, while the pickup was not damaged.

Helene Hellquist, 18, of Uppsala, Sweden is the Rotary Club's latest exchange student, and will be staying in Haliburton for eight months. Currently, she is living with the Ken Langdon family, near Haliburton. Pictured above is Helene showing a book on Sweden to the Langdons.

Canada, she says, is much like home

Few surprises for Swedish student

Meet Helene Hellquist.

An 18-year old native of Sweden, she is yet another Rotary exchange student who will stay with four families during an eight-month visit in Haliburton Village. But Helen is somewhat different from her four other exchange predecessors.

Unlike any Rotary visitor before her, Helene knew almost exactly what to expect before she arrived in Canada. The snow didn't mystify her, and the winter sports didn't make her feel out of place, because Helene comes from an environment very similar to the one she now visits.

"It (Canada) is very similar to Sweden," the quiet blonde teenager says. Her home is the city of Uppsala, near Stockholm, but she "feels it is better" to live in a town of smaller size, such as Haliburton, because of the quiet pace and casual atmosphere.

Though she has only been here for three weeks, she has already made some observations about the areas, and compares it with her home country. She notes Haliburton seems to be "busy and active for a small town" and the people are friendly. The scenery, similar to rural areas of Sweden, "is very beautiful," she says.

Helene arrived in Haliburton on December 17 and has been staying with the Langdon family near Haliburton since then. She is taking a combination of grade 12 and 13 courses at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. In Sweden, Helene worked part-time as a waitress and dental assistant, and actually paid to attend school because of the country's socialized state.

Athletics play a big part in Helen's leisure time. She enjoys skiing, both cross-country and down-hill, track and field and tennis. It was a foot injury incurred from playing too much sports, in fact, that delayed Helen's arrival; she was supposed to have been here by August.

Dancing, particularly ballet, is Helen's favourite hobby, and she owns a dog in Sweden. Too, Helene's social life took up much of her spare time in her country, she has a boyfriend at home.

While in Canada, Helene says she hopes to ride on a snowmobile, a mode of transportation rarely seen in Sweden. "I've only seen pictures of them," she admits.

She hopes to learn about the people here, and wishes to travel and see as much of the country as possible during the stay "if I get the time." Eventually Helene hopes to study economics in university. And though she is very good at sports, she will participate in them "only for fun."

Having stayed in the area over Christmas and New Year's Eve, Helene admits she has made one keen observation about the difference in celebration between Sweden and Canada during the festive season. "The parties are bigger."

cial controls within each society. The reviews are conducted by representatives from societies, the ministry, and other social service professionals.

The 10 societies selected for review in 1980 are: Algoma, Frontenac, Halton, Kawartha-Haliburton, Parry Sound, Sarnia-Lambton, Simcoe, Metropolitan Toronto, Metropolitan Toronto Roman Catholic and Wellington.

In 1979, reviews were carried out in 10 children's aid societies. Specific recommendations are being made to both the Societies and the ministry to improve their services to children. When all reviews have been completed, the ministry will prepare a public report of the overall findings.

A variety of factors were considered in selecting the societies to be reviewed in 1980 including: regional distribution of societies, size and complexity of societies and absence of a recent review.

A fairer way

Residential property owners across Haliburton County may find themselves paying a little less toward the expenditures of their municipalities as a result of an equalized assessment scheme proposed by the provincial government. Two county municipalities will adopt the scheme in this taxation year, while the other eight municipalities are expected to implement the scheme in time for the 1981 taxation year. Not all property owners will welcome the scheme, of course, because it will result in some tax shifts, but the implementation of equalized assessment will be an important step toward a fairer spreading of taxes among the county's ratepayers.

Historically, assessments on large numbers of properties have been less than fair for at least two reasons. The first is that before 1978, assessment was the responsibility of municipalities. That meant they could be set high or low, and frequently were. The result was disparities between municipalities that gave rise to numerous apportionment appeals. The second reason that assessments have been unfair is that they were frozen in 1970 at the bidding of the province which at that time announced plans to bring in market value assessment across the board. The scheme proved politically explosive, and was shelved, but assessments remained frozen while other possibilities were explored. Houses built after 1970 were subsequently assessed in a manner that was meant to make them fit into the frozen, 1970 assessment level but inequities inevitably crept into the system. The practical reality of frozen assessments has been that people living in essentially identical houses in the same area have had wide variations in their assessments and have thus faced wide variation in the amount of municipal taxes they paid.

Under the proposed equalized assessment scheme all properties in a particular property class will be assessed at the same percentage of their 1975 market value. Thus when a mill rate is struck, every property owner will pay taxes in proportion to a more realistic assessment of the value of his or her property.

The new system is not without pitfalls however, primarily for those who have enjoyed a break from taxes as a result of assessments that were too low.

Hardest hit under the scheme will be owners of large tracts of vacant land whose use is primarily recreational. The market value of that land has risen dramatically since 1970 as recreation has taken on a new economic importance. Recreational land will be included in the same class as residential, cottage and farm land for equalization purposes, and increases in assessment for some owners could be dramatic.

When the scheme was presented to Dysart council, at least one member expressed concern that tax increases for owners of large tracts of vacant land could have a detrimental effect on the local economy if it forced the owners to break the land into smaller parcels and sell it off.

While that may indeed happen in a few isolated cases, it is important to consider whether the old or the new system is fairer to the greatest number of people.

If an individual, a group of individuals or a company can afford the luxury of owning hundreds, even thousands of acres of prime recreational land, it is reasonable to expect that they should pay a fair share of taxes on those lands.

The new system may not be perfect, but it is certainly fairer to all concerned.

High prices

Commercial property prices as high as $1000 a foot fronting on Haliburton's main street? As incredible as it may seem, those are the kinds of prices a business person would have to pay for what little land is available in the village's shopping district. And the result, Dysart council believes, is that at least two businesses that might have located in the village in recent months chose to go elsewhere.

No one can blame property owners for attempting to get the most they can when they put their land up for sale. But if the result is that the village's business economy stagnates while that of other villages and hamlets flourishes, the time has come to look for solutions.

At a meeting Monday, Dysart council acknowledged that it must play a role in promoting the growth of the local business community. To do so it intends to designate more areas for commercial development in its official plan, which is slated for review later this year.

If more commercial property were made available, competition would keep prices down. Prospective business operators would then have a greater chance to get a venture off the ground without being saddled with property payments the business could not long support.

Council will take a step in the right direction if it amends its official plan to create more commercial land.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In a recent issue (January 2, 1980) an excellent article on the effects of acid rain, appeared, under the heading "Stanhope Notes".

The article summarized most of the important findings of the Joint U.S./Canada Overview Report and in most part, was quite accurate. However, the final conclusions of this article bear some critical examination since they do not reflect any scientific research paper or data known to this writer.

In fact, the conclusion that "liming" our dying lakes is purely cosmetic, costly and possibly harmful appears to be a subjective and personal view.

Firstly, liming with Calcium Carbonate (Limestone) is not harmful to any water-ecological system. In a healthy lake there is about 30 mg/l. of calcium (dissolved). In an acid-stressed lake this figure may be as low as .2 mg/l. Adding limestone merely replaces the calcium lost to acid. Thus the pH balance of the lake is restored to normal and the lake can now resist the further onslaught of acid rain. Possibly the author of the "Notes" was thinking of Calcium oxide liming which is harmful, costly and outdated.

Secondly, if no remedial program is initiated in the immediate future and we await the U.S./Can. governments to sort out the effluent problem, experts say that the best scenario possible would see the overall acid-generating effluent mass increase from 60 million tons per annum (1978) to 100 million tons in 1988 then slowly decrease to perhaps 50 million tons by the year 2020. At that point of course, our lakes and river systems would be long dead and possibly poisoned by large increases in heavy metals due to acid leaching from the rock strata. Our tourist orientation economy would be in shambles.

On the other hand, by liming, our lakes could remain healthy and potable, our economy viable and growing and when (if ever) the effluent problem was solved, our on-going winter works program of liming could cease. Liming too, keeps the heavy metal problem under control. The resultant on-going Winter works program resulting from liming would go a long way in reducing our unemployment problem and helping out lagging winter economy.

As to cost, may I say, there is no sum so great that our heritage of healthy lakes and a healthy economy, can be placed at risk.

The writer would be glad to address any group who would like to have a more detailed and scientific analysis of the problem presented to them.

H. Michael Collins, M.A., A.C.I.C.

To the Editor:

The Liberals and the NDP feel that Canadians are so indignant at the .18c per gallon increase in gasoline that we must want an election at once. At least that is what they tell us.

Offense has always been the best defense - to take the pressure away from themselves. The diversion this time is Alberta - and the new government.

I wonder how many of you realize that our own provincial government receives .54c from every gallon of gasoline sold in Ontario? If Queen's Park reduced this tax by only .25c a gallon, we'd have "the cheapest gas in Canada!"

If they put aside a further .25c from this tax and used it to build up an "Ontario Heritage Fund", it would soon surpass Alberta's.

Since that money comes from "Alberta's depleting natural resources" (expects to last only ten more years), and Alberta doesn't expect such windfall profits from the rest of the province in return, just "who" is doing the shafting? Surely not "greedy Alberta."

If "our government" doesn't raise the price at the pumps, the multinational gas companies will... Let's stop kidding ourselves and remember the "wage and price controls" promise.

Whichever party wins in the coming election it will go up. But "who" gets the extra money will depend on who gets in.

Sincerely
Claudia Say,
R.R. #2, Minden

To the Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to say good-bye and thanks to our many friends for the five and a half years we have spent in Haliburton.

Our family have grown up here, and will always remember this community with fond memories.

Special thanks go to Evelyn and David Dodd who organized a surprise dance at the arena on December 22 and to those who helped and attended. It was much appreciated and will always be remembered. Evelyn is not only a special friend, but a great asset to this community.

Thankyou also to those people involved in our children's lives, hockey and gymnastic coaches, skating and school teachers and many, many more who had added to the enrichment of their lives.

Don't forget when heading west to drop in for a spot of refreshment. We will always be glad to see you.

We hope to return for a visit in a couple of years. We will be receiving our Echo every week to see how the town is progressing.

Sincerely yours,
Ron & Barbara Hore,
Scott, Cindy, Collin, Shelly & Christine

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

Everyone who resides in Haliburton County should be starting to think snow. We have to go back to around 1964 to find the last time that we can recall having a green Christmas. We certainly had one this year, and it was hard to believe that here it was December 25 and instead of looking at white snow on the front lawn, all we could see was green grass. For many people who don't particularly like driving in the snow or on ice, and who don't seem to cherish the thought of shovelling snow, this break in the winter weather was just made for them. Let's take a moment now to look on the other side of the coin, and let's put ourselves in the position of the lodge and resort owners, snowmobile dealers, ski-tow operators, businessmen and all those who depend on this winter business to help them through the bleak months of November, December, January, February and March. For all of these people the lack of snow, means a bitter pill to try and swallow. The weather is one thing that we have no control over, and we still hope that we will have plenty of the white stuff before this winter is over, and if not, we will have to write the winter of 1979-80 off, and many will be thrown for a very bad loss financially. One also has to feel sorry for all those who received new ski equipment for Christmas and up to this time haven't had any snow to try them out. And for the snowmobilers who have been waiting for the past two or three months for snow, will just have to wait a bit longer.

Just a reminder here that the annual meeting for the Haliburton County Fair which is sponsored by the Minden Agricultural Society will be held at the council chambers in Minden on Wednesday, January 16, at 8:00 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The Toronto Maple Leaf hockey club seems to be in somewhat of a turmoil lately with the trade that saw Lanny MacDonald and Joel Quenneville go to the Colorado Rockies. This trade didn't go down too well with the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey players or their supporters. There's talk of more trades yet, and everyone seems to be wondering who will be next. Following the MacDonald trade several signs appeared both outside and inside of Maple Leaf Gardens. The one that really caught my eye was "Punch is out for lunch - But not at MacDonalds". Two Leaf players Walt McKenzie and Dave Hutchison got away from it all for awhile at New Years and spent a couple of their days off at Eagle Lake. Walt McKenzie is in the process of building a home in the Eagle Lake area.

One night during the holiday season I was walking home and to my amazement I was surprised to see the lights on at the tennis courts at Rotary Beach. For a moment I stopped and tried to figure out in my mind what might be going on here. I had decided that if a tennis game was in progress that it would definitely be a first for this time of the year. As I approached the tennis courts a big roar went up and it was plain to be seen that a hockey game was in session. Some of the boys including some of the Huskies had taken some time out to play a little pick-up hockey.

I have in front of me a list of some of the events, that we expect to see at the Haliburton Rotary Winter Carnival which is scheduled for Haliburton on February 15-16-17, 1980. According to this year's carnival chairman Art Dawson that any event that wasn't well patronized last year will be replaced with something new this year. We hope to have more news for you each week right up until carnival time.

Whipper Watson's annual Snowarama for Timmy is scheduled for Sunday, February 3, 1980. As always it will be a joint effort between the Rotary Clubs of Haliburton and Minden. The riders taking part from Haliburton will leave the Haliburton High School anytime between 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. It's the Million Dollar Ride and all snowmobilers are invited. The proceeds will go to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

During the holiday season there just wasn't enough snow for snowmobiling or skiing, but the lakes in the area were frozen over, and it was just perfect for skating. The merchants who sell skates in both Minden and Haliburton told me that during this time they broke all records in skate sales and business was so good that they practically sold out of skates. It seems that most people couldn't resist the temptation to put on their skates. It seems that most people couldn't resist a whirl around the lake. Every lake and pond that you passed saw boys with their hockey sticks and many a game of shinny was played during the holiday season.

It's Monday morning and I am finishing off my column, and believe it or not it's snowing outside and I mean really snowing. For the snowmobilers, the skiers, resort operators and merchants this white stuff that's coming down must be music to their ears. They have waited so long to see it and it's finally arrived. For many, and particularly for the owners of the ski tow at Sir Sam's Inn at Eagle Lake this white snow is a must. The lack of snow during November and December, has put an extra load on an already weak economy here in Haliburton County. It will be very hard now to make up for the financial losses brought about by the two months with little or no snow.

We are always looking for Pics of the Past photos and we certainly appreciate receiving them from you. We just ask one thing of you, when you bring or send them to us please give us as much information as you can about the photo, as this helps us out a great deal. When writing the caption for the photo we must have something to go on.

Every year about this time the Trent-Severn Waterway, Parks Canada, advises the public when travelling lakes and rivers for recreational or other purposes, to check the ice conditions.

HCSA release details 'deal'

At a recent director's meeting of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, the decision was made to join the Public Motorized Snow Vehicle Trail Builders Alliance and not to renew membership in the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs.

It was felt that the H.C.S.A.'s needs would be better served by this new provincial organization which is comprised totally of public trail building clubs.

The O.F.S.C. in recent years has become dominated by small social clubs from Southern Ontario who have no real interest in public trail grooming or the funding of these trails. For the past several years funding has remained at the same level while inflation rapidly eats away at these grants.

The "Alliance" on the other hand is totally in favour of the Quebec-style system wherein the rider has the option of joining a trail building club or paying a daily user fee. This system is enforced by a group of volunteer safety officers who have powers similar to an auxiliary police officer.

There was some fast action at the Bantam Tri-County game held at the Dysart arena last Saturday afternoon. Breaks like this one were common for the Haliburton squad, which has scored 32 goals in the last three games.

OMHA Bantams win

by Doug Mitchell

The Haliburton OMHA Bantams closed the month of December with two big wins of 11 to 4 over Oakwood and 9 to 2 over Minden.

In Oakwood, the local team only had eight skaters due to injuries and illness. At the end of the second period, the score was tied 4 to 4 on goals by Scott Mitchell, Steve Smith, Drew Bishop and Paul Vukic with two assists going to Barry Boice. The third period saw Haliburton go on a real scoring spree with Scott Rae getting three, Paul Vukic two and Steve Smith and Scott Mitchell one each.

In fact every player on the team got at least one point in that period. A very special mention must be made of Bishop and Boice who played the whole period on defence, and to goaltender Steve Dodin who stopped Oakwood cold in the third period.

In Haliburton on Friday night, the local athletes took up from where they left off in Oakwood and had Minden 6 to 0 before the end of the first period. Rae scored four unassisted goals before the night was over to totally demoralize the Minden team. Scott Mitchell added two more for Haliburton with singles going to Fred Roberts, Bernie Upton and Smith.

The final score: Haliburton, 9, Minden, 2.

Bracebridge wins tourney

Minden made it all the way to the championship final, but were beaten by a large margin against Bracebridge at an Atom tournament held in Minden last weekend.

In the fourth game of the tournament, Haliburton and Minden played to a 2 to 2 tie, but Minden went on to the championship since they scored the first goal of the game. In the first period, Minden's Tom MacLeod scored from Gord Wood at the 16 second mark, but Haliburton's Jeff Pottle then scored unassisted. Gord Wood scored for Minden at the 1:23 mark unassisted, and Haliburton's Pottle came up with his second goal of the game at 1:33 in the third period assisted by John Vanderharst. Bracebridge were the recipients of the Minden Texaco trophy.

game, four of which he scored in the second period. Charlie Teljeur had two goals and an assist, as did Kevin Barnum, Singles were picked up by Jamie Bennett and Mario DiPaulo, who also had two assists. Assists in the game were credited to Shayne Yateaman with two, Ricky Barnum with three, David Giles with two, and singles from Rod Sisson, John Tel-jeur, and Jim Bird. Tim Deremo earned the shut-out.

That spree carried over to last Saturday when the squad took on Cannington, and again shut-out the visitors by a score of 9 to 0. Mario DiPaulo came away with a hat trick as well as two assists.

In the first period, DiPaulo started the scoring off at 3:59 when David Giles and Kevin Barnum backed him up. Only 36 seconds later, Jim Bird scored unassisted, as did Mike Baker with 52 seconds left in the period.

In the second period, Haliburton came up with three more goals. The first came at 12:25 by Ricky Barnum assisted by Charlie Teljeur, the second, at 4:13, was scored by Charlie Teljeur assisted by Ricky Barnum and the last in the period was at 3:19 when DiPaulo came up with his third assisted by Ricky Barnum and John Teljeur.

The third period saw a further extension of that score. Ricky Barnum started things off at 10:21 with assistance from DiPaulo and Bennett, and at 6:12, David Giles scored after he was set up by DiPaulo and Doug Power. The icing on the cake came at 5:26 when DiPaulo scored the final goal of the game, helped out on the play by Kevin Barnum and Power.

Once again, after playing a strong game in net, Tim Deremo earned the shut-out.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

Sunday the 23rd, a group from Harcourt, maybe sensing we had an empty spot in our otherwise busy schedule, (which we did) came to sing both old and young and were pretty good. "Hark the Angels," "Silent night," "The first Noel" are samples of their offering. We much appreciate people like that, who on the spur of the moment, will agree among themselves to come to Extendicare to add joy to the residents. Thank you very much. Names are not a part of this item, because a prior commitment interfered.

Sunday, December 30, Lieut. Ron Mailman of the Haliburton Salvation Army brought with him his trusty guitar, SM Francis Nobel and his wife Diane, Lieut. Ted Palmer and his wife Norma and others. Like other Sundays they gave us a long list of the favourite carols. We thank them very much.

It is quite possible we have passed the excitement of Christmas for 1979 and can look forward to giving a welcome to the New Year and decade 1980. It was quite quiet considering the Christmas festivities and contributed one item finished, the round jigsaw puzzle, but with six, widely spaced pieces missing. Each missing piece adds much to the time required to do the puzzle. It is an extra challenge providing greater interest, so we shouldn't complain.

Some young lady we are informed crocheted an Afghan for one of our residents that is nine feet by seven feet in dimensions. Assuming that each stitch is one eighth of an inch square, or one sixty fourth of a square inch in size it would be a simple arithmetical exercise to learn how many stitches were needed. We did that exercise and it came to 326,592 stitches and averaging six stitches per minute would take 75 days, or maybe the average person's spare time for a year. Let's go metric now and see how many kilometers of yarn were used, assuming each stitch would take two centimetres making the number of stitches multiplied by two or 653,184 centimetres. In metric now we simply move the decimal to the left two points to convert to metres and three more points to convert to kilometres making it 6.53184. What a Christmas present! We have a resident that must be proud and grateful.

Little did we know when we sat down to our New Year's evening meal, that the two chefs on duty Bonnie Bonfield and Marilyn Berry had prepared something real special for us with country style ham, glazed with pineapple and maple syrup together with nicely creamed scalloped potatoes and corn. For dessert there was ice cream and mince tarts, all quite delicious. Our kitchen staff deserve much praise for making us feel at home this way. Another whole year will pass before we come this way again.

In this beginning of a new year we give some thought to the economy which is a mixture of business, government, and labour. In Soviet Russia it is simply government. It owns everything which is held in a very tight grip. In Canada what? The Tory's think government should govern, business should do the business and labour should do the work. The N.D.P.ers think the government should do all three. The Grits want the power to govern, to buy all the businesses they can get money for, and to make Canadian children remember to learn a second language. Social Credit is the funny money party.

The ladies were back cooking again today Thursday, to fill the cookie jar for come what may at the suggestion of Pat Burk. The cooks were Hazel Parish, Vivian Bowen, Maude Weston, Florence Burk, and Lila Simmons who made shortbread cookies those light and crumbly kind with a red or green cherry in the centre. We men encourage these ladies to make cookies as often as possible, because they are nice.

Head office, Extendicare got into the act again by sending in a pair of inspectors, inspecting our living conditions and breaches of rules. We thank these two, Kay Davis and Steven Haas for reporting all good and nothing bad.

Jake Gill has been on the sick list for over a week and had to be taken to the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital for x-rays on Thursday. All of us are urging and rooting for Jake to get better right away. He has been sick too long already.

Mr. Jim Cooper of the Gideons International in Canada was our spiritual leader for our devotional period Friday morning, his wife Doris was usher among us and Alman played the piano for our singing. The theme was based on the 90th psalm depicting God as everlasting to everlasting, unequaled in any facet of our lives Whom we are living to accept as our living God who promises to be our home forever. The after service was a delightful gathering of all of us over tea, coffee and cake (donated to us by the senior citizens of Haliburton) and those cookies, served by our gracious Mary Currah.

Two movies were shown in the afternoon; 1. Jamaica, British Calendar showing the continuing efforts of the people to make the difficult transition to home rule. 2. St. Lawrence North, - Winter sealing at La Tabatiere one of those "how to" films we like showing the taking of the seals, the butchering, the rendering of the copious fat, the skinning, the recovery of the occasional unborn seal and recovery of the pelt and the feeding of packs of dogs they had to keep to transport the seal carcasses and the enormous quantities of wood needed for cooking and warmth. There is a cliché that says that "no dog at large can be trusted" which we believe to be true, but these dogs were really cute. Everyone seemed to be all out to please

As is their annual habit, birds that stay all winter will actually feed out of the hands of humans. Here, a Chickadee enjoys a hearty feast from a generous friend.

Senior League

by Linda English

The Christmas season has been a very happy and busy time at Hyland Crest. Because of all the holidays, Senior League was not published last week. However, I will tell you about some of the activities during Christmas week.

On Thursday, December 20, the Auxiliary Members brought a variety of Christmas goodies for the tea party. Santa Claus and his two mischievous elves gave each resident a special gift, which was purchased by the auxiliary. The choir from the Allsaw Mission came to sing Christmas carols. The Gospel Church choir of Minden also came to sing for us and served a lovely lunch afterwards. These two groups have beautiful voices, and the residents enjoyed their visit very much.

Christmas Day was a happy time for all of us. In the morning, Santa Claus and his elves showed up again to distribute gifts to the residents.

At eleven o'clock, Rev. David Barker held a Communion service in the Chapel.

At 12:30 p.m. Mark Schell and the kitchen staff served Christmas dinner with all the trimmings. There were a number of people come to enjoy their dinner with their families who are residents here.

After lunch, Lieut. Mailman, his wife and son Michael of the Salvation Army were with us to celebrate the birthday of Jesus. Of course, the playful puppet Andy came with them. We have grown very attached to this warm family and we were so happy to have them all with us on this very special Christmas day.

Friday, December 27, several residents enjoyed the hilarious movie, "Ma & Pa Kettle in the Ozarks". The funny antics of Ma Kettle and her brood had everyone laughing and their sides were sore.

The kitchen staff served Christmas cake, shortbread and ice cream cones for the Thursday tea party between Christmas and New Years. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed

"Entering New Decade"

As we welcome this new year 1980, we are also entering a new decade, one we hope, that will bring us as much success in achievements as the last.

If we were to recap the growth of this previous year alone, one would be hard pressed to tell whether it referred to one year or 10. We as guild members should be extremely proud of this outstanding record.

$1000 Grant"

A grant of $1000 has been donated by Sir Sandford Fleming College to the Guild of Fine Arts Resource Centre at the Rail's End Gallery.

This grant will purchase slides, books as well as periodicals in the various areas of the Visual and performing arts. The resource centre has been growing rapidly and with the aid of this generous contribution it will prove to be a most informative as well as impressive collection.

"Winter Carnival Sale"

Mid February has always been known as Winter Carnival Time, with a multitude of activities being held in Haliburton that weekend for the enjoyment of all our visitors as well as our own residents.

One that we are proud of is our Winter Carnival Sale, to be held this year at the Rail's End Gallery. Although it seems to follow rather closely on the tail of our Christmas Show and Sale, allowing little time for our crafts people to produce new items, we are none the less encouraging one and all to do their best. To say we are being recognized as one of the leading areas in which to obtain quality crafts would not be an understatement, so let's not disappoint any of our visitors.

"Gallery Cards"

It's not too late to obtain a Gallery card. They are only $3.00 and are good until May. This card entitles the bearer to attend any function held at the Gallery, unless stipulated for Guild members only, so get yours now!

"Pottery Group"

The proposed credit course in pottery sponsored by Sir Sandford Fleming College has temporarily been shelved until a teacher can be obtained to instruct the one day and one evening a week for 10 weeks course. Thirteen applicants for the course had been registered, but a total of 20 was needed to carry it at 2 days and one evening a week, so a new schedule is being made in order to proceed as planned. Until this is finalized the Guild pottery workshop will run their spring courses as usual starting January 14, Monday evening, Tuesday day, Wednesday, day and Wednesday evening.

See you there!

"Quilts on Display" The upcoming show at the Gallery is entitled "Quilts on Display", this show will run the entire month of January with special feature attractions to be held periodically throughout.

This display of prize winning quilts was recently shown at the Sarnia Art Gallery and is the work of area crafts people.

Mrs. Williams will accompany the display and a special Quilting Course will be held

McColls dinner party held in honour of anniversary

The family gathered at the home of Jack and Elda Hunter on December 22, for a dinner party given in honour of Bertha and Thomas McColl on the occasion of their 60th Wedding Anniversary.

Both life-long residents of Gooderham, they were married at Kinmount, Ontario on December 22, 1919, by Rev. Jordan Crowe.

Mr. McColl worked in various lumber camps before he started working for the C.N.R. in 1920. He worked there until his retirement in 1961.

They have four children, Mrs. Jack Hunter (Elda) of Gooderham; Mrs. Roy Judson (Marion) of Caesarea; Ray of Bowmanville; and Mrs. Ted Ingle (Dorothy) of Oshawa.

They have 10 grandchildren.

ren and 5 great-grandchildren.

A three tiered wedding cake centered the head table which was presided over by the bride and groom of 60 years.

Grace was said by grandson Larry Hunter, followed by a turkey dinner served by hostess Elda Hunter. Pieces of wedding cake were passed around by granddaughter Shari McColl.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent taking pictures and reminiscing.

Congratulations were received from Her Majesty the Queen, Premier Wm. Davis, M.P.P. John Eakins, and M.P. Wm. Scott; as well as numerous cards and gifts from friends and relatives.

Friends wish the couple many more happy years together.

smoking eight packs a day, furious because his tame pussy-cat, Joe Clark, has upset all his referendum plans by turning into a mouse.

Robert Stanfield must be weeping into a pair of long-johns and shaking his head, slowly and sadly, as he contemplates the asininity of the party he once led with grace and dignity.

Ed Broadbent, the people's hero, who was thoroughly rejected by both farmers and industrial workers in the last go-around, is probably desperately searching for a formula that will get some votes from the middle class.

Pierre Trudeau, picking up the torch that everybody else dropped when it burned their fingers, is probably thinking, "I wonder what that bloody Margaret is going to say to screw up this one."

If nothing else, the election fits the season. January sales are up for grabs, along with cheap power, political.

Oil prices rocket, while our "leaders" tell us that we have lots, or there's going to be a shortage, whichever fits the matter of getting votes. And worst of all. We're going to be subjected to a winter of lies, hot air, cold comfort, and a complete stagnation of our country.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

Intended for last week -

Before beginning with news of the eighties there are a few items from last year that should be mentioned.

The ladies of the United Church, Wilberforce, held their Christmas meeting at the home of Marion Barclay on December 20. Following a short business meeting, Mrs. Norman Noble displayed the traditional advent wreath and presented an interesting devotional. The four red candles symbolic of the four weeks of advent and the larger white candle to remind us that He represents the light of the world, were lit. Following this can the singing of familiar carols that everyone enjoys at this time of year.

Mrs. Cleo Earle presented Mrs. Ruth Saunders with a life membership pin and certificate honouring her years of service in the Wilberforce United Church.

Supper was served by the hostess and gifts were exchanged.

For years, Mrs. Donna Burroughs of Harcourt has been using the skills of her trade to cut and curl hair of most of our local ladies. She began with a one room hair dressing parlour in her home. Later a trailer was equipped for this purpose and this worked very well until numerous mishaps occurred such as lack of water, frozen pipes and a balky furnace. All this trouble has been left behind now, as Donna has opened up a new beauty parlour in another section of her home. It is nicely decorated and well equipped and there is room for an extra operator. Congratulations to Donna. Long may she continue to provide her excellent service.

A recap on our 1979 news shows that Wilberforce is still the progressive village with new accomplishments to prove it.

Several new businesses were started. Glen's Ten to Ten next to the library has had a very successful year. The B.J. Take Out service did well during the summer months. Gail Krupa's clothing store is now well established. This year saw the opening of the new L.C.B.O. building and the Bank of Nova Scotia will be completed in a matter of days.

Final touches are being added to the fine new building of the Wilberforce Veneer Co. A surprise move saw the company office picked up, transported and then attached to the new building. The space left behind is being used at the moment for a parking lot which has helped to clear up the congestion on the main road.

There has been much moving about. Dwain Tighe and his wife have moved into their new home, Wilber Sanderson sold his home to one of our teachers, Mr. Way. Wilber built a new home for himself closer to the main highway. Alex Bowers built a fine new home for his family and son Billy completed his place. Gordon Clark erected a home across the road from the Clark family residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oram moved west and their place was purchased by the Ken Sanderson family where they now reside. The home they vacated is being rezoned commercial and will be used by mining engineers who are making a study of the area for uranium mining.

The Clarence Fauls family now live opposite the school house, a spot they occupied a few years ago.

We now have no restaurant as the family Legges have moved from the area. Jack and Edith Daniels have done extensive renovation to their home.

During 1979 a steel roof was constructed for the library, the Fire Hall received new doors, a new tennis court was opened, the baseball diamond was resurfaced and the outfield seeded down. Much progress was reported on the new addition to the Legion Hall.

During the past year a young people's group was organized with weekly meetings at the Memorial Hall. The Girl Guides added a new group for older girls to be known as the Pathfinders.

Monmouth Fire Dept. First Response Team answered more than 12 emergency calls for assistance.

You are invited to attend a Salvation Army service to be held in the Lloyd Watson Memorial Hall on January 13. Service will be taken by Lieutenant Mailman of Haliburton.

It is often said that our good neighbours to the south, know very little about Canada, its climate, people or politics. This was evident on New Years day during the Parade of the Roses being shown on TV. As a beautiful float came into view, it was said to be a prize winner from Quebec. To alert the public that it was Canadian a few bars of our native music was played. Instead of the appropriate "Alouette" the Quebec float advanced to the tune of "Rule Britannia".

The Queen bee of our community has been laid low. Things just won't be the same around town until she is back on her feet assisting in the hustle and bustle of daily living. Eileen Agnew is wearing a nicely decorated white cast which will continue to hold in place her broken ankle for some weeks to come. Her busy hands and ready wit will be missed in the Red and White store. The children she teaches every Sunday will hope that she will soon return and the ACW, of which she is president, will be praying for her. We all wish her speedy recovery.

The New Year's Eve dance held in the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre was a happy event. Members of the Minor Hockey League are to be congratulated on a well planned evening. Everything was handled perfectly with just the right number of merry makers, good music for everyone and a fine luncheon prepared. Let's have more of this type of entertainment.

When it comes to new residents we have plenty to brag about. On December 24, Derrick Dale Holland arrived in the early hours of the morning. He was a fine looking boy weighing 8 lbs. 5 oz. and 22" long. His proud parents are Connie and Dale Holland and he had a sister to greet him, Rhonda Holland. Next important person to arrive was Aerial James French. He chose Peterborough for his appearance. He weighed in at 7 lbs. 2 oz. and is a brother to Justin who's 20 months at this time.

Now we come to Reginald Andrus who created quite a stir in the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton when he turned out to be the first New Years day baby to be born in that

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Anderson of the Kinmount area celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Saturday. The couple have 31 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren, and celebrated the occasion with them and friends at the Legion Hall in Kinmount.

Here we go again - headed for a whole new year and let's all hope it will be better than the last.

Was Santa as good to you as he was to me?

Guests of Lorrie, Jason and Bill Moss of Norland on Thursday were Mary L. & John Pyke, Norland, Bonnie and Jim Walker of Weston, Bonnie and Jim stayed on with us til December 28.

On boxing day, Joe McGuire went into the bush to cut some trees and was hit by a falling limb. Mrs. McGuire had someone go in search. Joe was found, but is suffering from frost bitten feet and is in Peterborough Civic Hospital.

Much happiness to Connie Crego of Kinmount who recently gave birth to a beautiful baby girl. Both are doing well.

Mrs. Arthur Young of Burnt River is a patient in Peterborough Civic Hospital where she is coming along well after having suffered a heart attack. She had, as a visitor on Saturday, December 29 her sister, Mrs. George Young of Kinmount.

Win & Bill Wilson R.R. 1, Kinmount, are now in California, for the wedding December 31 of son Dann.

Tim Henderson came home to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson.

Ruby Schell of Kinmount went to Jackson's Point on Xmas eve to spend the holiday with her two sisters, arriving home on Thursday, December 27.

Margaret Kylie, Kinmount is still visiting with her family in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. L. Swinson is living back in her home after having suffered a fire recently.

There is a young lady in Fenelon Falls who is hoping you will save your empty cigarette packages for her. She is confined to a wheelchair and if the family can collect enough packs, it will enable them to get a motorized chair for her. Quite a number of us recently helped Mildred Baldwin collect 60,000 cigarette packages which in turn gave a much needed wheel chair to one of the local hospitals. You may leave your packs at the Legion bingo hall in Cobocok or I would be pleased to see they are turned over to this grateful family. Can you think of a better way of recycling?

Win and Bill Wilson are back in Toronto on their way home after their trip to California.

Guests of Betty and John Lonsdale, Kinmount, recently, included their son, home from Toronto for the holidays and some of their good friends who have a young son, ten years old and answers to the name of Bruce Alexandra Bruce, a miracle child as he was the first to survive a very serious operation which was performed about this time a year ago.

ened to see so many of the children out skating on the lakes, perhaps near shore is okay, but do children listen and do that. Well I was looking out the window on Friday just in time to see three young girls walk right across our lake here in town, and it's not safe as the boys found some air holes out to the side of where they were. Is it really worth it? I would think the Twelve Mile Lake tragedy would alarm the parents.

Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Anderson, Nancy and Rossie visited with Miss Edith Anderson in Toronto on Sunday.

Mrs. V. Brooking was happy to have as her guests her three grandsons, John Langley of Edmonton, Alberta and Mark and Tim of Bowmanville.

If you have any news of interest, please call me.

The regular Euchre games will resume again after the holidays.

Gravelling operations are taking place on the road between here and Gooderham, so don't be afraid of losing your car now in those pot holes as they are doing a real good job at fixing them.

Mr. & Mrs. Mike Carberry of Oakville were visitors in the area before Christmas. Congratulations to them on the birth of their son Michael Graeme.

It makes one really frightened to see so many of the children out skating on the lakes, perhaps near shore is okay, but do children listen and do that. Well I was looking out the window on Friday just in time to see three young girls walk right across our lake here in town, and it's not safe as the boys found some air holes out to the side of where they were. Intended for last week -

Christmas, 1979, is now history and I'm sure each of you has enjoyed the visits of friends, good fellowship, a time of worship of our Lord in whose honour the 25 is remembered each year.

Trust yours was a truly blessed Christmas. For many there was no doubt some sadness, and in far away lands, despair and starvation. How blessed we are, living in Canada, even if we do not agree with our government.

Several Churches held special services. The Christmas programme at Faith Tabernacle was held on Friday night, December 21, and on December 23, Sunday night, a candlelight service was held in the church with a packed in crowd.

Those with loved ones in hospital visited their loved ones and prayed for those ill. Among those ill over Christmas were Rev. Angiers of Lime St. still in Ross Memorial Hospital. Wally Betts of Water Street in Sunnybrook Medical Centre in Toronto.

John Grozelle, who has spent many weeks in Sunnybrook Medical Centre was home for the Christmas season, as well as Gwen Faulkner who has been in Lyndhurst Rehabilitation Hospital, Toronto, for some time. Don Logan, who has been in Ross Memorial Hospital, also made it home for Christmas.

Mrs. Tom Rutter and Garnet visited Wayne and Beryl Rutter and family at Wilberforce on the weekend before Christmas and spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rutter and family in Scarborough. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brecht and family of Scarborough visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Faulkner last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. White and family of Calgary, Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stuart of Toronto, Mrs. Ellen Marles and Lyn of Mount Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goode and boys of Queensville, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fisher and Mr. Walter Marles and Lisa of Peterborough all were Christmas visitors of Mrs. Annie Marles.

Mrs. Lizzie Scriver and Mr. Albert Daley of Fenelon Falls were visitors on Wednesday of Mrs. Marles. Mrs. Mary Hutchinson and Roy with Mr. & Mrs. Garnet Peel of Bols over accompanying them, left for a motor trip to Florida and points south immediately after Christmas.

Marg and Doug Michel enjoyed Christmas with his parents in Florida.

Mr. & Mrs. Herb Fell and girls of Lindsay spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Seaford Richman.

Mrs. Ruth Hall of Lindsay, Howard Hall of Toronto, Cindy MacCall of Peterborough visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Routley over Christmas.

Mr. & Mrs. J. Kirkaldy and girls of Ajax visited Marj Henderson for several days last week.

Mrs. Maizie Kelly is home after a visit with her niece, Rev. & Mrs. Bruce Fisher at Moncton, New Brunswick.

Mr. & Mrs. Brian Burmaster of Mississauga spent the Sunday before Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Burmaster. Clarence and Laura McKay will sure be full of turkey if they eat all they won!

Clarence and Laura won four turkeys in the turkey roll held at the Legion Hall just prior to Christmas.

A very successful dart game was held at the Legion Hall recently.

Word has just been received that Mr. Wallace Betts (Wally) passed away at Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto.

and now, we are told another year should see him quite well. He and his family live in Erin, Ontario and his illness originally started with an ordinary cold and developed into what is known as Reyes Syndrome. Prayers for this little boy were certainly answered.

Speaking of Betty and John Lonsdale; they had a phone call from England recently and now are eagerly looking forward to visitors some time in May.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Wally Betts who recently passed away.

We spent our new years in Toronto with relatives and had a very nice time.

May and Bill Campbell of Miami, Florida are presently most welcome guests at our house.

Jim Hockley of the five to a dollar store in Kinmount is selling lots of minnows these days to the ice fishermen and good luck, by the way to all the boys and girls who have been spending their time ice fishing since New Years day.

Remember all our people in various hospitals and at home. It takes such a little of our time.

Ida and Clyde Parry of Cobocok, spent Xmas and New Years with Dolly and Jack LeCraw in Norland.

Happy Birthday to Lorrie Moss, Norland on January 9. A wee plaque given to me contains this verse. I think it carries a message: The little plans I tried to carry through have failed. I will not sorrow. I'll pause a little while and try again tomorrow.

Have a happy day and give me a call at 488-2399 if you wish to have guests, announcements, game scores etc. mentioned here.

Wilberforce

hospital in five years. He is another husky fellow weighing in at 7 lbs. 11 oz. His proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrus of Wilberforce.

We have news of a girl baby too, although we can't claim her as our own. She is a new granddaughter for Donna Herbert and was born January 2. Congratulations to all these happy parents and welcome to the new comers.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

Each Saturday morning

interested young people from age four up meet in Norland Library and enjoy an hour and a half of story time and crafts led by Dale Davey. On Wednesday evening, January 2, the children in the group performed a puppet show and a short play for parents and friends and afterwards presented Dale with a gift of appreciation for her time and effort with the group. Story time will continue each Saturday from 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. and all young people are most welcome to attend these fun classes.

The father of the Vietnamese family staying with the David Sucklings, Norland will be a patient at Toronto Western Hospital as of January 14. Mr. Tran has been suffering from a very serious heart problem and will undergo open heart surgery to hopefully repair the deficiency. Everyone knows how serious this type of surgery is and I'm sure Mr. Ha Tran would appreciate a card and or a prayer wishing him well at this time. His address is Mr. Ha Tran c/o Toronto Western Hospital, 399 Bathurst Street, Toronto, M5T 2S8. "I was a stranger and ye took me in" - (Matthew 25 - verse 35)

The rest of the Tran family is well and adjusting to their new environment. The six year old boy is attending school in Kinnmount and all are making good progress in learning to speak and understand English.

The five member Vietnamese family sponsored by Minden-Coboconk group and residing in Minden will all be attending special orientation classes sponsored by Canada Manpower at Sir Sandford Fleming College in Haliburton starting on Monday, January 7. These classes will be five days a week from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. This family, too, have adapted well to Canada and Canadian ways and language and with the exception of our cold weather seem very happy.

With the spring like weather on Monday, December 31, I was surprised to look out my kitchen window about midday and see a little gray mole rush across the lawn, grab a large pink earthworm and scurry back to his hole and disappear with this succulent morsel. My understanding has been that moles do not come out during daylight because they can not see but perhaps that worm was just too good to pass up for the hungry mole. He knew exactly where to get it and wasted little time out in he open.

Despite several setbacks Mike Riordan and some of the Norland Athletic Club members have been working hard to get the repairs and painting done in the Community hall basement, so interested archers can start to practice. The badminton stand and net are now in place and one of the ping pong tables is set up in the hall. A group worked cleaning up, painting walls and building cupboards in the basement on Saturday, January 5. If plans go according to

by Yvonne Penny

Intended for last week -

Christmas 1979 is all over and we are facing a brand new year, 1980. Many young people in the area spent the holidays amid loving families and the young people of Carnarvon were no exception. Some of those are - Cindy and Bob Fletcher, Lynn and Barb Barnhart, Greg Bishop, Larry Watson, Dick Stouffer, Gary and Cliff Archer and their families, Colin and Julie Russell, Sharon Tomlinson, Dorothy Wallace and family, Ron and Terry Bannan and families and probably many others whom I was not fortunate enough to see.

A good many people turned out Sunday night to enjoy an evening of Christmas music. The weather was anything but good and not very like Christmas with all the fog, but the little church was almost full. Melissa Stevens of Haliburton accompanied the choir on her flute but the highlight of the evening were the fine children of the Junior Choir who sang so sweetly they just make your heart melt. These five girls are Donna and Debbie Thomas, Gail Barnhart and Lisa and Jennifer Tomlinson. Congratulations, girls.

Christmas Day was like spring, but made it easier to get out to visit. As we were going to my brother's for dinner, I had no cooking to do and we went to visit the only centennial of the area - namely - Charlie Fader. Charlie was surrounded by his loving family and had just consumed a big turkey dinner when we arrived. He certainly is looking well. Next we called on Alex Hewitt and Royce Harrison, then went on to Buttermilk Falls to visit with Bill Howe and his sister Mabel. We then came back to Carnarvon to spend some time with Dale Toye and her two girls. Stephanie was unfortunate and caught scarlet fever for Christmas, so spent her time indoors. However, you can't keep a good girl down and she was busy playing the organ and tracing like mad with sister Tracy keeping her company.

Then it was on to Rich & Claire Harrison's where we found a houseful of our family and friends. We enjoyed a scrumptious dinner with all the trimmings. I'm writing this news with a new Sheaffer pen sent to me by the Haliburton County Echo and drinking coffee from a new coffee maker and also a new mug which my two daughters gave me with the inscription - "I'm too busy to be Organized." I think they are trying to tell me something. My thanks for the lovely pen, it makes writing much easier.

Santa Claus spent some time at Welch's Country Meat Market on Christmas Eve Day. He visited with all the children and shoppers, then made his way out in a gold convertible - a new mode of travel but not much snow for a sleigh.

Fran Russell and Bob were married in a quiet ceremony last Saturday. All the best to them in their new venture.

Don't forget - Carnarvon U.C.W. are holding their January meeting one week later than usual this month only - the second Wednesday of January, which is January 9th at 12:30 p.m. at the church in Carnarvon.

The students of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will be preparing for the first set of examinations of this school term. Why not make January "Be Kind to Your Students" month and be tolerant and perhaps overlook a few bad moments of lost temper or frustration! It's a trying time for many students and most of them are truly doing their best to excel in their studies.

Best of luck in 1980 to the newly formed "Big Brothers Movement" in Haliburton County. If you give help and encouragement to even one boy, the organization becomes worthwhile. Another group, worthy of attention, is the Haliburton County Association of Children with Learning Disabilities. Their small group of parents and interested people is working primarily this year to inform and educate the general public that there is a need here with these children mainly to recognize the difficulties involved in seeing the problem at an early enough age to be able to help.

We are fortunate enough to have a facility like Camp Tohewee in our area. This camp is just a wonderful place and certainly does some pretty wonderful things for children lucky enough to be accepted into their summer program. We will have a membership drive in the near Tuesday, January 15 and Wednesday, January 16, 9 - 12 in the morning and 1-4 in the afternoon, with the morning class dealing with patch and press techniques and afternoon classes applique and press. Cost of the course is $12.00.

A special get-together will be held January 17 starting at 10:30 a.m. This get-together is open to the general public and is entitled "bring your own ideas". This is especially important to beginner quilters as well as experienced quilters to exchange ideas and techniques. So come along - we would love to see you there.

their master. The dogs shown were "kept in their place".

The Happy Gang are pleased to learn that Barbara Frum is determined that Joe Clark is to be returned to power as Prime Minister leading a majority Tory government to bring down a much needed perfect budget that was defeated by minorities ganging up on Joe.

There is one phenomenon in nature that to us never ceases to amaze and that is that in flocks of birds, or schools of fish, or swarms of insects one never sees interference from their movements, or from flapping of wings.

It now seems that crude oil has shown another facet of its dangerous importance to all of us. Global conflict!

future - if you are interested in any way, please contact me or any member of the executive.

New Year's parties will be the order of the day next week. Don't forget the party at the Dysart Community Centre on New Year's Eve - proceeds to go to the building fund of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Haliburton.

Let's hope the Legion has better luck this year, last year was the bomb scare and I remember standing in the rain without a car as we had hired a cab to return at one o'clock to pick us up. This year we are attending a house party much closer to home. Just remember, if you plan on having anything stronger than coffee - make sure you walk or arrange for a taxi to do your driving! There are too many unnecessary accidents and lives lost at this time of year.

I had a visit last night from a family who used to live next door to us until last year. Barb and Jim Fryer and their three boys called and Barb is really slim and trim. She has lost a considerable amount of weight from a very strict diet. I congratulate her and feel there is hope for me yet. I sure was nice to see them again.

We also had a visit from a fireman and his wife from St. Catharines, Bob and Joanne Valentine and Barry and Doris Stewart, who are local Mountain Laker.

Happy New Year to all my readers and friends and all the best in 1980.

The clock of life is wound but once. And no man has the power to tell just when

The hand will stop, at late or early hour. Now is the only time you own. Love, live and toil with a will. Place no faith in tomorrow. For the clock may then be still.

The sympathy of this community and particularly of this family goes out to Gloria and Dean, Marie, Dawn and Ginger on the sudden death of a husband, father and beloved grandfather, Elwood Con. Years ago, Marie and Elwood's home was a second home for me and many like me. We were severely chastized and scolded for coming in late and anything else which appeared wrong in their eyes, but we realize now it, was all for our own good and our parent's peace of mind. Our heartfelt sympathy is expressed to Marie and her family in their great and sudden loss.

I spoke with Joanne Sampson in New York and she too expressed her thanks for that home away from home which was extended to us in our teenage years and again when we were married and new mothers.

The weather is still holding, clear and cold - making it just great for people travelling around but I've talked to many cottagers and young locals who are disappointed at the complete lack of snow for skiing or snowmobiling. My two daughters received skis for Christmas and there they stand - useless. They have enjoyed some skating, however, on our beautiful little Mirror Lake in the centre of Carnarvon.

Well, today is the first day of a new decade - 1980. Last night we attended a house party down the highway a little, at the home of Linda and Larry Cummins. We had a very nice time and met some more of our neighbours who live on the outskirts of our beautiful downtown Carnarvon - namely - Marylou and Bill Toddy and her sister Barb - they own and operate the Wedgewood Marina. Bill (PussyCat) tells me that he has a new boat storage there and has plenty of room for more boats and canoes.

Have you made your New Year's resolutions yet? I have made a few, but am not going to make them public since I did such a poor job of keeping my one resolution from last year. Good Luck to Shirley and Dutch in their resolution to give up a bad habit.

Little Jamie Bacon fell last week and broke his leg and is spending a month in St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough in traction. Then he will need to wear a cast on his leg for six weeks after he comes home. Perhaps you would like to send him a card, he is three years old and must be pretty bored by now lying on his back in bed. Ruth and Irv Barry spent the New Year's holiday in Toronto with her sister and brother, Mary Hicks and Lloyd Harrison. They returned home last Tuesday and report having a very nice time.

I received a pledge sheet in the mail the other day from Whipper Watson asking me to join the 1980 ride for Crippled Children - Snowrama 1980. I haven't heard of a date yet, but you can be sure I'll be soon out collecting pledges as this is one way I can help a child - which is one of my resolutions for this year. I think every year should be the "Year of the Child" since they are very important to the running of our great country in the future.

The 15 cent cup of coffee has finally arrived - at Welch's Country Meat Market - at Maple Lake on Hwy. 530 three miles east of Carnarvon. Shoppers can enjoy a cup of coffee for fifteen cents or coffee and a delicious donut from Linkert's Bakery in Wilberforce for 20 cents, from nine to six every day and Tuesday and Friday from nine to nine. This offer will be good as long as the cold weather lasts here in Haliburton County. Come on out and join us as Mike says I drink too much coffee anyway.

I heard a fish story today. One brother caught a ten pounder on Thursday and his brother (not wanting to be outdone) went out on Friday and caught a twelve pounder. Pretty good luck, I'd say!

I also heard a rumour (I hope) that you can't buy 1980 license plates here for a truck until goodness knows when. Pretty bad business - eh!

There's lots of traffic tonight (Friday) with snowmobiles on most every car; all these hopeful people.

I read a definition in the paper the other day, the definition of a tornado? Mother Nature doing the twist - how about that? Also the meaning of the word "Crapulent" - all the stuff you lent and don't want returned.

If you don't receive a card in the mail telling you that you are on the voter's list, make sure you call your enumerator and get your name put on the list. In my poll, #16 - you can call me on January 30, all day and I'll see that your name is added to the proper list so that you get to vote on February 18.

We watched the first part of the horror movie "Salem's Lot" on T.V. on Thursday night. What a scary story. The conclusion is to be shown next Thursday at nine on Channel 3 - Barrie.

My Christmas poinsettia is still blooming beautifully - how long will it last and what do I do with it when it stops blooming? Can anyone tell me?

The person who says "I'll do it tomorrow" was probably saying the same thing yesterday. This quote comes from the United Church Order of Service for January 6, 1980.

Adios and take care now.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Are we spoiled or are we spoiled? After being able to walk around town with just our shoes on, we wake up this Monday morning to snow again. Oh well, it helped ease us into January without all the frustrations of too much snow, and after all, the ski resorts need some snow or will be out of business.

Beware of February, because that is the month they tell us, that will have many storms. March they say will come in like a lion, but from then on, spring will be on its way and hopefully we can plant our flowers early without danger to them.

Am I a forecaster too? No! I would cause too much discord by being one.

We are sorry to report to you older folk especially; that on December 25, Mrs. Irene Weaver, daughter of the late John Prentice of Minden, passed on at Simcoe General Hospital. I'm sure many of you remember Mrs. Weaver, as she also lived here for a time.

Forgive all the correspondents, but I'm sure they like myself are still reporting on folk who had family over Christmas or were away. Anyway it all makes news!

Mrs. Mary Winderover spent a week with the Gary Vaseys at Bradford at Christmas time, but spent the New Year here in Minden.

How many of you watched "Going Places" last week? The people won a vacation in Haliburton Highlands or Muskoka. This is the first time I've heard our county mentioned on one of these shows. I sure hope it continues for we ever need the advertising.

Doctor and Mrs. J. Loednquist and sons spent the holiday break visiting relatives in Toronto.

Miss Mary Lou Wunker has been appointed to teach Missionary Children in Haiti. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wunker.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Kernohan over the long holiday were their family Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kernohan of Whitney, Mr. and Mrs.

Jim Graham and Mr. & Mrs. Bill Barkwell of Huntsville; Mr. Alan Kernohan and sons of Oshawa. Also some grandchildren among them Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bibeau and Chris of Port Perry and Mr. & Mrs. Tony Van Schipdel of Whitby.

Congratulations to Mrs. Lena Burton who on December 30 celebrated her 84th birthday at a dinner at Glenroy Lodge with her family from Mississauga and Minden.

Mr. & Mrs. Wally Brown had Mr. and Mrs. Stan Osmond from Mississauga visit them last Saturday.

Winners at the Mini Card party on January 3, were: - Cribbage - Joyce Hewitt, Agnes Taylor, Euchre - Lone hand on a cut Alice Todd; Norah Briggs and Mary Coulter.

I'm afraid I cannot follow through with at least one of our editors' speculations in last week's notebook. Len have you not kept up with the voice of the reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden. If you have not, I would like to remind you that as soon as spring arrives the first sod will be broken for the new Library building regardless of whether or not anything else is completed. You see the council knows that they have been asked since 1972 for a new Library and this I know for a fact, so finally the start will be made in the spring of 1980. Now whether it is completed by winter, we will have to wait and see, but I assure you the council is tired of the committee asking for more room, so they will keep them quiet by starting the building and once they do, look out, because it will go like a house on fire. Excuse the phrase, but it is true!

There is a Library-Museum complex meeting next Monday evening at the council chambers at 8 p.m. At this meeting all are invited to attend, the members of council will be present. Come and hear what they have to say. See you there.

Mrs. Maude Coulter spent the week after Christmas with the Ray Rivers at Downsview. Mr. Paul MacBrien attended the Worldwide Missionary Conference at Urbana Illinois; between Christmas and New Years.

Mr. & Mrs. Noel Leigh spent Christmas with the David Leigh's at Trenton.

schedule the recreation facilities (Badminton, Archery and Table Tennis) will be available for use by the weekend of January 12. The hours that the hall will be open for recreation will be posted at a later date.

Another lucky Norland Firefighters' Hockey pool winner was Janice Magee on Saturday, December 29.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. Farrington of the Wee Boutique were warmly welcomed to an enjoyable Open House on New Year's afternoon.

The next Rotary Travelogue at the Academy Theatre in Lindsay is at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, January 17. Howard and Barbara Pollard will show their film entitled the Colorado Caper. This is a delightful way to visit and view other parts of the country.

Norland Bowling Club team scores as of January 2. Series 2 Game 7 Teams of W. Landry, 40 pts., R. Bryant, 30 pts., T. Watson, 29 pts., M. Angiers, 28 pts., H. Smith, 23 pts., M. McAllister, 19 pts., I. Boyce, 14 pts., and P. Purcell, 13 pts. Ladies high single and triple, Michelle Angiers, 219, 557. Men's high single Mike McAllister 237, high triple - Jim Brohm, 561.

Many Norland and area people attended the evening service at Norland United Church on Sunday, December 30, when Rev. Eric Hudson of Bancroft was guest minister. Rev. and Mrs. Hudson, family and friends favoured the congregation with songs sung to the accompaniment of Rev. Hudson's guitar. Following the service, refreshments were served in the church hall where everyone had an opportunity to renew acquaintances with the Hudson Family and wish them, neighbours and friends a healthy, prosperous new year.

I would suggest that when you are dialing direct long distance that you make sure that you do not make a mistake dialing and get a wrong number. With Bell Canada operators on strike, it is impossible to get an operator to answer when you dial "0" to tell her that you have made an error to get a credit on your call. I know because it happened to me on January 2.

Helpful Hint.
To rid a cutting board of the smell of onion, garlic or fish, cut a lemon in two and rub the surface with the cut side of the fruit. A paste of baking soda and water applied generously and then rinsed off works also.

Chamber

the former site of Roseneath Manor on Milford Bay. The resort property was entirely destroyed by fire in 1976 and the developers are proposing a complex that could be described as a "large scale housekeeping cottage resort" and will be aimed at bringing in large number of European tourists on a year round basis.

This news would of course be more exciting if it was happening here, but it is encouraging to see that there are development firms optimistic enough about the future of tourism in this region to make such extensive plans.

It is worth noting here that U.S. visitors to Canada from January to August 1979 were down 4.1% and visitors from elsewhere were up a whopping 21.6%.

This and That

The newly re-furnished Sunn Rock Lodge was the scene of a very special wedding and reception on Saturday when new owners Barry and Lorna Show tied the knot. We hope this only the first of many celebrations to come for this new family in our community and are sure you join with us in sending them good wishes.

Our sincere regrets and sympathy go out to Evelyn Jarolimek and family on learning of the sudden passing of her husband Charles. They owned and operated Fairfield Bay Cottages on Mountain Lake until last summer and were now looking forward to spending summers at their cottage at Irondale.

Another Chamber member taken from us suddenly was Bill Capell who suffered a heart attack at the drowning tragedy on Twelve Mile Lake. Bill represented Peterborough Bedding in this area and was well known by many of the resort operators, and will be sorely missed.

Candidates

names on the electors' list, a candidate might be reimbursed to a maximum of $12,000 of actual spending.

Under the formula, the candidate would receive 17 cents per name, plus eight cents for each of the first 25,000 names and six cents for the remaining 25,000. In the above example, this would total $12,000.

To qualify for part reimbursement of election spending, a candidate must either be elected or obtain 15 per cent or more of the valid votes cast. This is the same qualification that applies to the return of the candidate's $200 deposit that is required to run for office.

In the last general election on May 22, 1979, a majority of candidates spent less than 80 per cent of their prescribed spending limits. For example: of 949 candidates endorsed by the four major parties, only 376 spent 80 per cent or more of their spending limits.

Registered political parties may be reimbursed for half the cost of 6½ hours of broadcasting time that is used and paid for. Broadcasters are required to make available for purchase to registered parties, 6½ hours of prime time during an election.

Candidates and registered political parties reported total spending of $28,149,776 in the last federal general election. Reimbursement to candidates and parties totalled $10,506,614.

Each candidate must file a report with the Returning Officer within four months after an election. The return must set out all expenses incurred, plus vouchers, plus a breakdown of contributions of money, goods and services, and a list of the names of contributors who donated more than $100. A summary of this return is published in a local newspaper. The names of contributors of more than $100 to candidates also must be disclosed, and will be made public. Failure to file returns - or keep within expense limits - carries penalties on conviction. The Commission of Canada Elections is empowered to investigate alleged breaches of the law and authorize the laying of charges if necessary.

Only registered political parties and candidates are allowed to pay for political advertising during an election.

Contributors to political parties and candidates may deduct certain amounts from their income tax, if they are taxpayers.

The tax credit formula is as follows:
- 75% of the first $100 contributed, plus
50% of the next $450 contributed, plus 33½% of the next $600 contributed.

On a contribution of $1,150 or more, the maximum tax credit is $500.

To obtain a tax credit, the taxpayer must attach to the tax return the official receipts for the contributions. These receipts must be issued and signed by a registered agent of a registered political party or by the official agent of a candidate whose nomination paper has been filed with the Returning Officer. Receipts can only be issued for contributions of money (cash, cheques, money orders, etc.).
